“TURSIOPS” 2013 35’ CONTENDER

(Actual Vessel)

Unique Welded X-mas Tree Rod Rack

A 2013 35' Contender with triple 300 H.P. Yamaha engines, was reported stolen from a lift behind a private residence in Pensacola Beach, Florida in the early morning hours of Sunday, January 25, 2015. The vessel has a white hard T-top, red stripe and the name “TURSIOPS” along the port and starboard hulls, red canvas around the windshield and along the sides of the helm station, white interior and white cushions with red trim. It had a red, canvas helm station cover and two long outriggers attached to the T-top at the time of the theft. It also has a uniquely designed rod rack welded to the helm station and T-top. Only 3 other vessels have this design. The vessel is believed to be headed East/Southeast traveling along the Florida west coast. The vessel is Florida registered, number FL 6246 PR. The HIN is JDJ5V072L213. The triple, 2013 300 H.P. Yamaha engines have Serial Numbers: 6C FX 1003562, 6C EU 1009138 and 6C EX 1008554. The theft was reported to the United States Coast Guard, Florida Marine Patrol and Escambia County Sheriff's Office.
